OVERVIEW

The kitchen is today's heart of the home and choosing the perfect sink and tap is a vital element of your dream design. So, it is essential to get the best combination that works for you.

Your choice of sink and tap can have a huge impact on the character and functionality of your kitchen. As a result, choosing a material, size, finish, and colour that is right for you and your space is so important.

Did you know that over half of your time in the kitchen is spent near the sink? Being such an integral part of the kitchen layout, your sink and tap demands a balance of style and functionality. They need to look elegant and perform seamlessly all day, every day: a place to wash up, rinse crockery and scrub your hands, to name but a few.

Our vast, diverse range ensures we have a sink and tap for you; whether you're looking for something classic or modern, compact or grand, simple or creative in finish and style...the design opportunities are endless.

Browse our comprehensive range from trusted European suppliers where everything is manufactured and locally sourced. Plus, with so much to consider, our curated collection will help you make the correct choice.

HOW TO CHOOSE THE RIGHT SINK & TAP

There are several important decisions to make when choosing the perfect sink and tap combination.

If the choice seems overwhelming, this brochure is designed to guide you through the selection process with ease.

We have grouped our sinks into material types – from classic Stainless Steel to Granital and luxurious metallics – and our taps according to their design.

01 SIZE MATTERS

Look at your available space and consider what you want from your sink. Do you use a dishwasher on a daily basis for example? If you have a compact kitchen, a smaller, single bowl sink is a practical solution that won't take up valuable worktop space. The popular one-and-a-half bowl with drainer layout is great for utilising more than one function in the wet zone: soaking bulky pots and pans, rinsing food, washing hands or fitting in a waste disposal unit. Larger kitchen layouts can upgrade to a double bowl design or even a large, single sink which can hold a good amount of crockery, pots and pans, but often has a smaller footprint.

02 CONSIDER BOWL DEPTH

Don't forget to consider the depth of the sink bowl. Deeper sinks can accommodate larger pots and bulky oven trays - they can also prevent splashing around the wet zone. Shallow sinks are easier to access but might not be as practical for certain tasks like soaking pans or washing up a large stack of dirty dishes.

05 ADDED EXTRAS

Your sink can be transformed into a multi-tasking centre with just a few extra accessories. For budding chefs, our range of Stainless Steel strainers and wood or glass chopping boards will help with food preparation tasks, while our portable drying rack lets you dry crockery without the need for a permanent feature. Small extras that will make your daily kitchen life a little easier!

03 THE PERFECT FIT

How your sink is fitted will hugely influence the overall look of your kitchen design. It's largely down to personal preference, but the layout of your kitchen and choice of worktop are key considerations. Undermount sinks, installed underneath the worktop, create a luxurious finish with smooth, uninterrupted lines that are easy to keep clean. A more traditional, inset sink is installed from above, with the lip of the sink overlapping a few millimetres and sealed with a waterproof edge.

04 ALL ABOUT THE FINISH

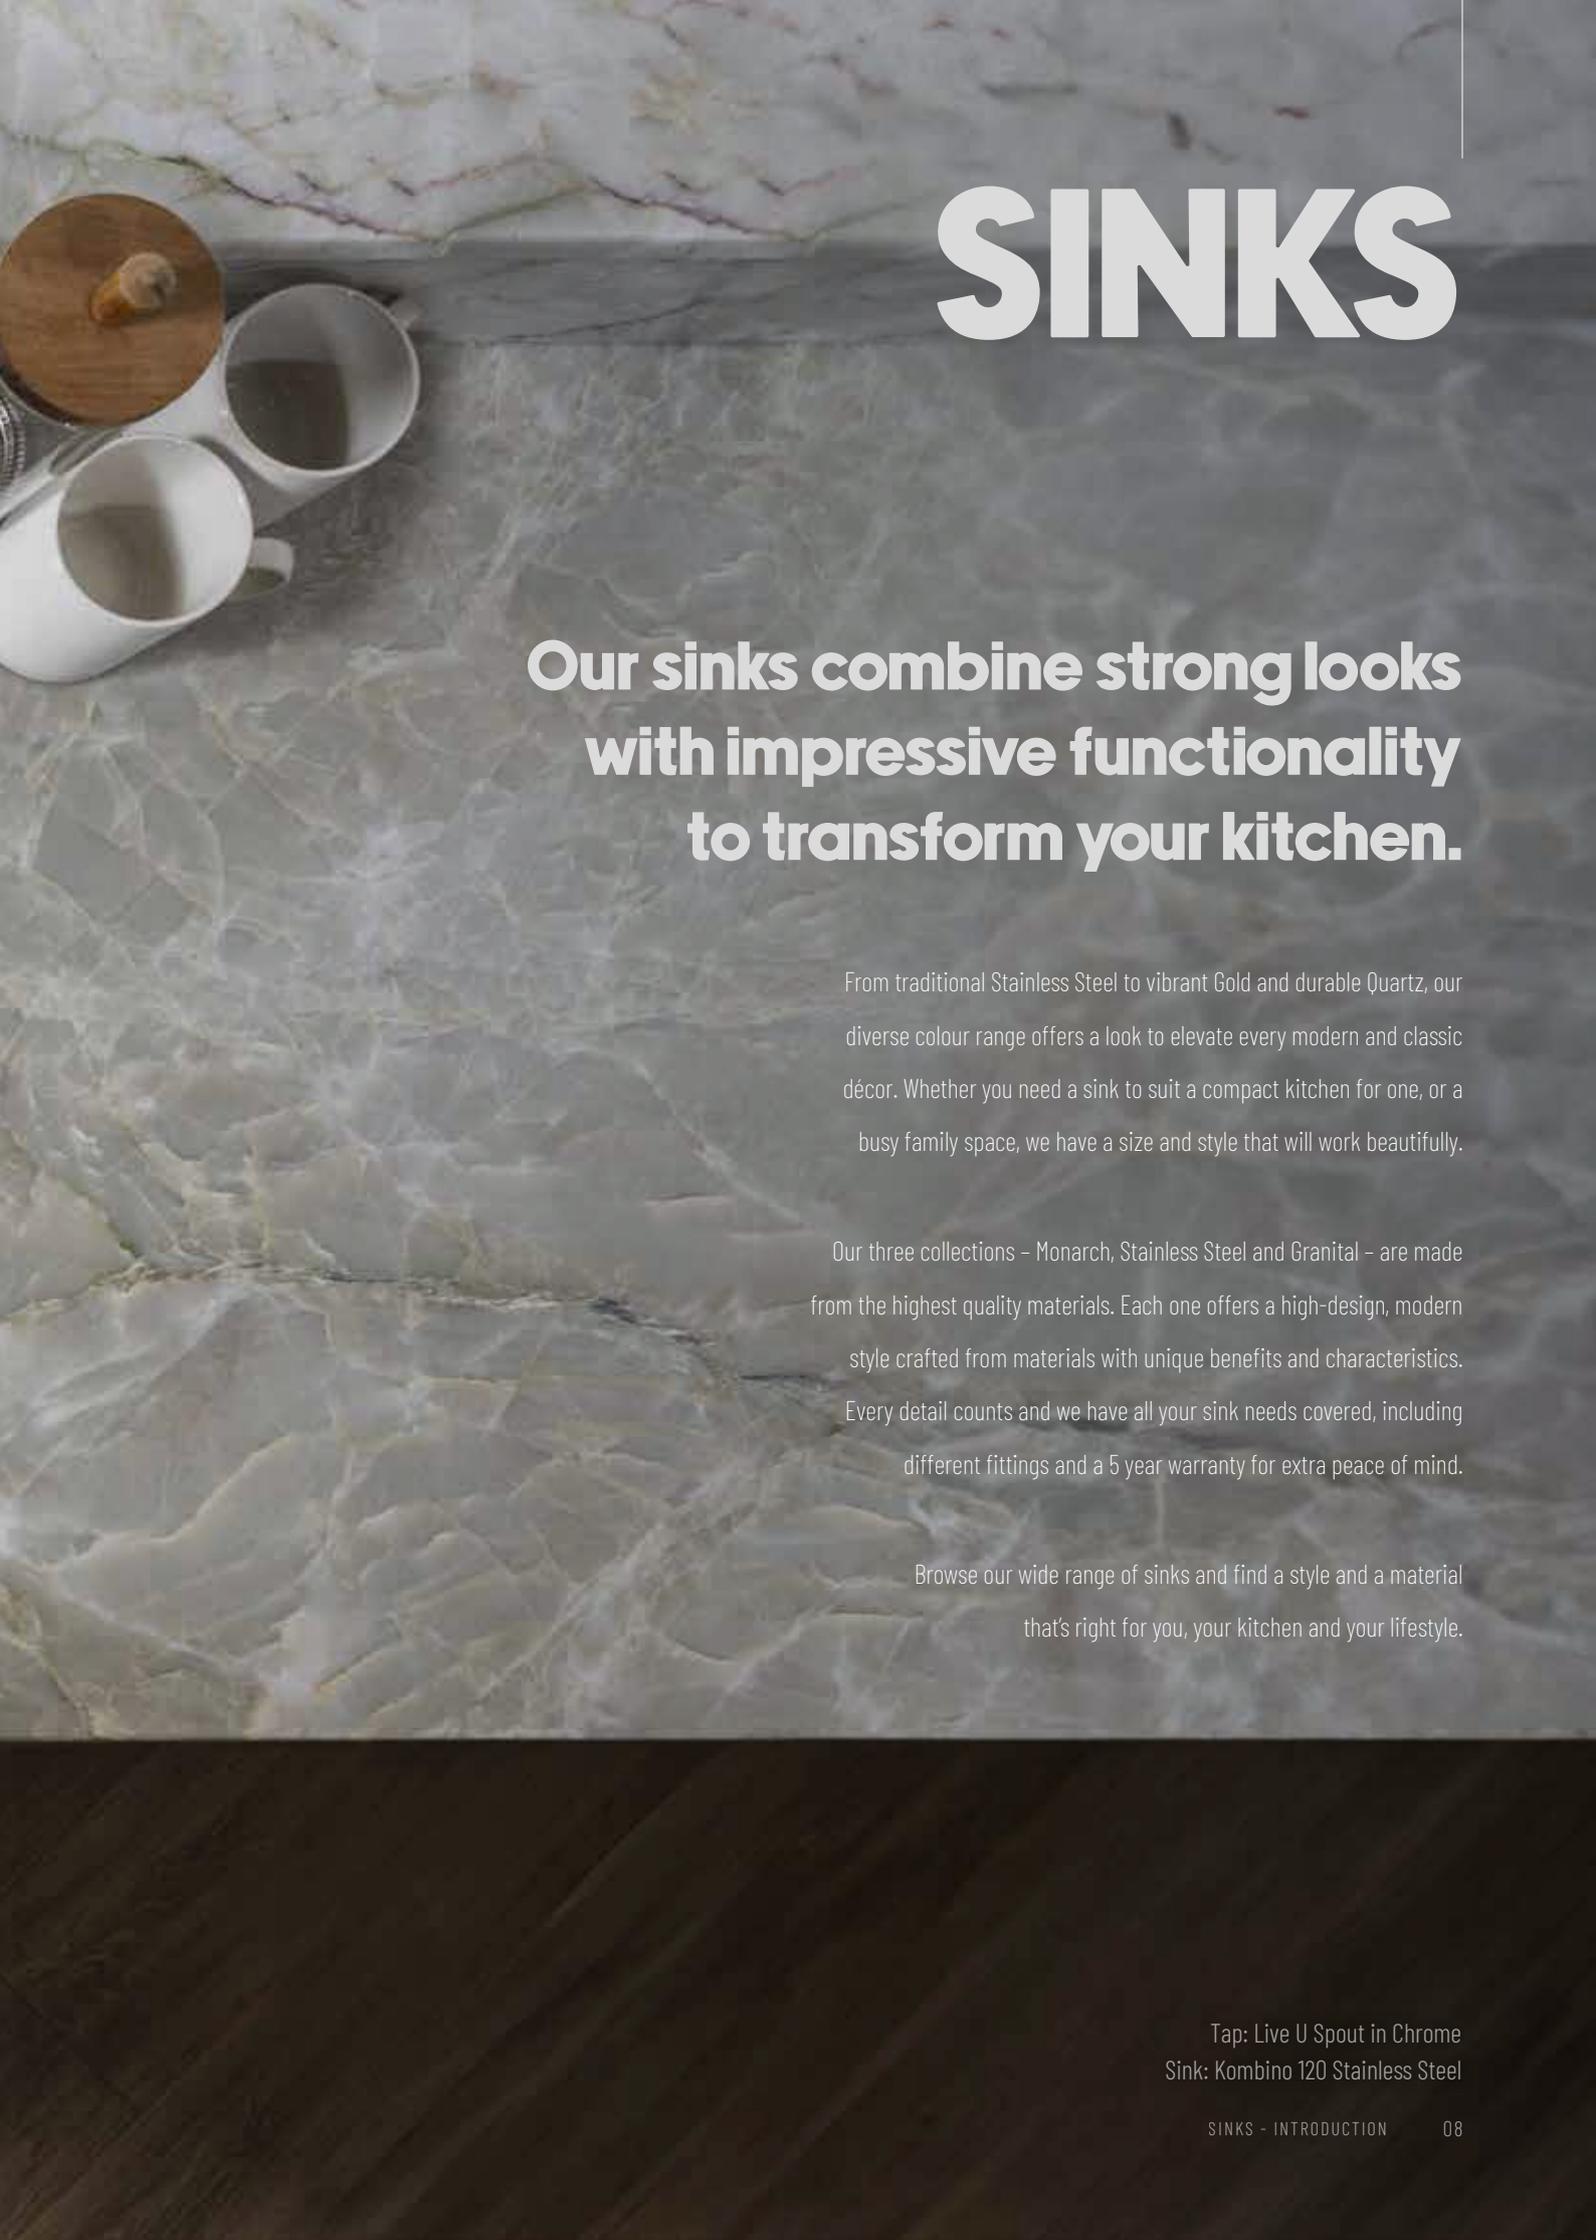

Our vast range of finishes ensures we have the perfect choice to suit your kitchen. In six earthy hues, our Granital Collection made from resin and quartz is modern and durable with a natural look that complements every style. You can also create a luxe, high design statement with a Bronze, Gold or Copper metallic from our Monarch Collection. Stainless Steel will always hold practical and timeless appeal and is an attractive option for smaller budgets.

06 TAPPING IN

Taps are one of the most hardworking and frequently-used elements of your kitchen - they are constantly in use. Choose a design, finish and function that fits in with the style of your kitchen and your sink. We offer a large selection of single-lever mixer taps, so you can achieve the perfect temperature through a single spout. Think about added extras too, such as pull-out sprays and filtered water options. We also have more traditional taps if a classic style is more your thing.

SINKS

Our sinks combine strong looks with impressive functionality to transform your kitchen.

From traditional Stainless Steel to vibrant Gold and durable Quartz, our diverse colour range offers a look to elevate every modern and classic décor. Whether you need a sink to suit a compact kitchen for one, or a busy family space, we have a size and style that will work beautifully.

Our three collections – Monarch, Stainless Steel and Granital – are made from the highest quality materials. Each one offers a high-design, modern style crafted from materials with unique benefits and characteristics. Every detail counts and we have all your sink needs covered, including different fittings and a 5 year warranty for extra peace of mind.

Browse our wide range of sinks and find a style and a material that's right for you, your kitchen and your lifestyle.

DUAL LEVER TAPS

For a more classic look, our dual lever tap collection is the ideal choice.

The main difference with this collection of taps is that they feature two separate levers – one for hot, one for cold. This allows you to control temperature and flow independently. Just like our single lever taps though, the dual lever range has one spout for the water to flow through, so you can reach the exact temperature mix.

To help you achieve a harmonious kitchen appearance, we have carefully selected four high quality finishes for our dual lever tap range: Chrome, Matt Black, Brushed Bronze and Brushed Stainless Steel. Each one will instil a chic yet durable design statement in this busy, hardworking zone.

Choice doesn't stop there. So, whether you prefer a modern or vintage-inspired kitchen, we have four different, dual lever designs to choose from.

The contemporary Aquerelli taps feature either a slick, L-shaped spout or a softer, curved J spout – both modern but with distinct silhouettes to personalise your space. For a more nostalgic ambience, try the Grazia swan neck tap with gently rounded, cross head handles, finished with ceramic indices. Then there is the Antica P spout complete with smooth, ceramic levers, perfect for a modern, rustic mood.

Whether you opt for a single or dual lever tap, is a matter of personal choice. But one thing is for sure, when paired with one of our Monarch, Granital or Stainless Steel sinks, every tap design will help create an impressive centrepiece in your kitchen.

A close-up photograph of a kitchen sink area. The countertop is a light-colored, textured material, possibly stone or concrete. A wooden brush with a light-colored handle and a round wooden head filled with natural bristles sits on the countertop. Below the countertop, a dark wood cabinet is visible with a long, silver metal handle. The background wall is a light, textured surface.
